5/29/12 - U.S. Supreme Court Denies Cert

The U.S. Supreme Court today issued an order denying Jacobs Engineering Group Inc.'s cert. petition, for which the Construction Industry Roundtable (CIRT) had joined in an amicus brief in support of the petition. The case arose from a decision by the Minnesota court to allow claims formally barred by the state's statute of repose to be resurrected after the legislature passed a compensation law that permitted such claims in aftermath to I-35W bridge failure. (For more details on the case see the CIRT story dated 4/02/12 below).
