A force for positive change in the design / construction industry

09/27/2017 – Zero Injury as an Industry Norm

The National Academy of Construction (NAC) has released the latest in a long line of position statements on the subject of safety, entitled: “The Foundational Logic of Zero Injury.” The statement “urges top company leaders in the construction industry to embrace the operational concept of “achieving Zero Injury” as a corporate safety performance norm.” (To review the statement go to CIRT’s RESOURCE center). For a listing of safety related statements see, NAC’s Safety White Paper Compendium at: <https://www.naocon.org/wp-content/uploads/2016/03/NACSWPCompendium-03-11-2016r-2-1.pdf>
