

Construction Industry Round Table

Judicial News

A force for positive change in the design / construction industry

12/16/09 – 2009-2010 Judicial Hell Holes Report Released

As a member of the American Tort Reform Association (ATRA), the Round Table is an active supporter of civil justice reform that will address the level and severity of frivolous lawsuits faced by businesses, including those in the design and construction industry. Each year ATRA does a comprehensive study of the worse state jurisdictions for lawsuit abuse, this year's reported has just been released and is entitled: Judicial Hellholes® 2009/2010. You can review the report and/or share it with your legal department/staff by following this link.