Regulatory/ CIRT News

A force for positive change in the design/ construction industry

12/18/15 – Senate Committee Reports on the Need for Regulatory Reform (including CIRT's Views)

Senator Ron Johnson (R-WI) Chairman of the Senate Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs released today a report entitled: "Direct From the Source Understanding Regulation From the Inside Out." The document, prepared by majority staff of the HSGAC, summarizes responses to a letter the committee sent to stakeholders in regulatory policy earlier in the year. The Round Table was among the organizations invited to provide input – included in the final report is CIRT's submission, which is amalgamated into the points in the opening, quoted in the summary portion, and then attached in its entirety in Appendix A. Sen. Johnson, as CIRT members in attendance at our spring conference in DC will recall, was our dinner speaker – receiving rave reviews for his common sense, fair, balanced, and practical business approach to governing.
